

THE EAST TENNESSEE UNION FLAG

THE UNION FLAG.
REV. EDGAR GRISHAM, Editor & Pub'r
STEPHEN A. BOVELL, Assistant Editor.

WE JOIN NO PARTY WHICH DOES NOT CARRY THE UNION FLAG, AND KEEP STEP TO THE MUSIC OF THE UNION!

JONESBOROUGH, TENN.:
Friday, October 19, 1867.

THE UNION FLAG HAS
A Larger Circulation than any other paper in Upper East Tennessee.

And its original platform must be carried out, and "traitors must take back seats," until they bring forth fruits meet for repentance.

And Tennessee must be made whole. Traitors must be punished and impoverished; they must not only be punished, but their social power must be destroyed, and after making treason odious, every Union man and the Government should be reimbursed out of the pockets of those who have inflicted this great suffering upon the country.—ANDREW JOHNSON, April 1, 1865.

OUR PLATFORM.

WE ARE IN FAVOR OF THE ENTIRE ENFRANCHISEMENT OF THE COLORED RACE, AND THE DISFRANCHISEMENT OF THE REBELS OF THE SOUTH UNTIL IT IS SAFE TO TRUST THEM WITH THE BALLOT. THE CONGRESSIONAL POLICY OF RECONSTRUCTION, THE CONFISCATION OF REBEL PROPERTY SUFFICIENT TO PAY THE EXPENSES OF THE WAR, AND REMUNERATE LOYAL MEN FOR THEIR LOSSES INCURRED THEREBY, AND WE WILL SUPPORT NO MAN FOR THE PRESIDENCY WHO WILL NOT COMMIT HIMSELF TO THIS PLATFORM OF RIGHT AND JUSTICE.

FOR SHERIFF,
S. E. GRIFFITH.
Subject to the decision of a nominating Convention.
FOR JUDGE FIRST JUDICIAL CIRCUIT,
NAT. B. OWENS.

The Late Elections.

The intelligence from the general elections, which passed off last Tuesday week in the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Iowa is surprising, but not startling. We are warranted in believing that whilst the Democracy has polled its entire strength, the Republican party, thinking that victory was easy and certain, was not so enthusiastic and zealous as in former campaigns and failed to discharge their entire duty at the ballot box. If such is the case, these tremendous gains that are trumpeted from one end of the Union to the other by the Democratic journals are all stuff and nonsense. In Ohio the amendment to the State Constitution enfranchising the colored man is undoubtedly lost, whilst at the same time the Radical candidate Hayes is elected Governor. This proves that the amendment is a local issue, which may have lost to our party a number of votes, but the election of Hayes certainly proves that upon the great cardinal principles of Radical Republicanism, the people of Ohio are uncompromisingly right. The only probable disaster that may arise is the election of the consummate and reckless traitor Vallandigham to the United States Senate, in place of Hon. B. F. Wade.

The result will affect as much good for the Radical party of that State as the Manassas defeat did for the Union in 1861, and after conceding a Democratic gain, we can not see that we have met with a reverse that should in the least discourage us. The same remarks will apply in the case of Pennsylvania and Iowa. The Radical party may rest well assured, that these results do not in any measure forebode the results of the election in November. They are not to be regarded as an endorsement of the treacherous and odious administration of the ingrate, traitor and villain who disgraces the Presidential office at Washington. The nation, after having sacrificed the lives of five hundred thousand of its noblest, purest and bravest heroes, and spent almost countless millions of treasure to suppress the rebellion—a murderous and hellish mob of Democratic traitors and criminals, can never and will never give its approbation to his ignominious course of crime and wickedness. The glorious old Buckeye, the old Keystone of the national edifice, and Iowa, a giantess among the sisterhood of States will not lead the van in this humiliating movement. They will never take upon themselves Kentucky's shame and Maryland's degradation by endorsing the defection, infidelity and treason of Andrew Johnson, which has made the country abhorring and full of passion and violence, and delayed the complete restoration of the Union for an indefinite period. When the two policies, the one of a loyal Congress and the other of a perdition, treason-rewarding and loyalty persecuting Executive are put before the American people in all their broad distinctions and wide antagonisms; where the embattled hosts of Republicanism and Democracy are marshalled for the next great political warfare in our country the patriotic sons of every loyal State in overwhelming numbers will flock to that standard of glory, which as a beacon light of Heaven guided, cheered and fired with a true warrior's soul, the soldiers of the nation in the wild din and darkness of battle, when they achieved for us and the world those blessings of a free government, our Creator intended we should enjoy. Never, no never, will they ally themselves with those black-bannered cohorts of treason, who attempted by fighting in the armies of the South, and obstructing and crippling the military operations of the Union forces in the North, to establish a monarchy on the Western Continent, and thus defeat the scheme of our wisest and best statesmen and philanthropists, "a government of the people, by the people and for the people." We shall never despair of the triumph of right, the annihilation of wrong, however successful for the time, and feel well assured that the wise and equitable principles of Republicanism will be vindicated and established during the next administration—our country being presided over by a loyal Executive and Legislature.

Indiana is still steadfast in the faith, electing the Radical ticket by large majorities. In some localities there have been some gains for the Democracy, but there are overbalancing Republican gains in other places. Tennessee has also been heard from, and the official Republican majority is 51,844.

The Judgeship.
This election comes on Saturday next, for this judicial office. We appeal to our friends and readers not to fail to turn out on that day and cast their votes for Col. N. B. Owens. He is the man to beat Gillenwaters and his chances for doing so are encouraging if we are correct in our information. He has stronger claims on your support than any man on the track, and his election will promote and secure your greatest good. His qualifications for the position are as good as those of any inexperienced Judge that ever went on our bench. He is an honest man, and cannot be biased in the administration of the law. The legal affairs of the district will be safe in his hands, and we ask you to reward his steadfast loyalty by electing him to the position, to which he aspires.

Inaugural Address of Governor Brownlow.
GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES: What is dignified or undignified, appropriate or ill-timed, in the matter of an inaugural address, the manner of its delivery, or its length or brevity, are all mere matters of taste on the part of those who hear and criticize documents of this kind, and are usually passed upon in accordance with the likes and dislikes of the confirmed partisan. Therefore, in the brief address which I propose to deliver on this occasion, I intend to be governed by my own convictions of what is proper, and by the feeble condition of my health. In a document of a different character, which I expect soon to lay before you, I shall confine myself to a brief review of the principal interests of the State, and direct your attention to such recommendations as their needs have suggested.

Grateful to the people of Tennessee for the honor of a second election to the office of chief magistrate of the State, I assume the trust, deeply impressed with the grave responsibilities which it imposes upon me. I am the more grateful for having obtained a larger majority than has been given to any man in the State since its organization, and in one of the most bitter and unrelenting conflicts we have ever had, in the matter of the opposition to the office of chief magistrate, the result was decided by the vote of the people. I assume the trust, deeply impressed with the grave responsibilities which it imposes upon me. I am the more grateful for having obtained a larger majority than has been given to any man in the State since its organization, and in one of the most bitter and unrelenting conflicts we have ever had, in the matter of the opposition to the office of chief magistrate, the result was decided by the vote of the people.

dispensation in the political affairs of the South. The rebel-Democratic party goes to pieces; the Republican Union party looms up in bold relief as the party entitled to the confidence and regard of the whole country. This Conservative party has during its career advocated no more men and no more money to carry on an "abolition war;" a universal amnesty for traitors, secession, and foreign interference; now openly advocates the repudiation of the national debt, and it only remains for it to advocate polygamy in order to have sounded every known depth of political infamy.

I have witnessed, with regret, in different localities in this State, a disposition to proscribe Northern men, and drive them from the country. I do not enter into this spirit, nor will I administer the executive branch of the State government upon any such principle. If men are good enough to come to Tennessee and encounter the cold and heat and mud and rains of our climate, and face rebel bullets in putting down the rebellion, they are good enough, when qualified, to fill offices of honor and trust. We want Northern capital—Northern enterprise—and to get all this, I, for one am willing to take a fair proportion of Northern politicians. But I yield to no man in my contempt for that class of Northern men who come among us and, for the sake of position and patronage, abandon their honest sentiments and become rebel sympathizers.

Gentlemen, in the feeble state of my health, I shall expect your kind indulgence and generous co-operation, whilst I ask that as few burdens be imposed upon me as the public interests may allow. Mutually seeking the public good, let us accept every responsibility which our respective positions impose.

Implying for your guidance the favor of a merciful God, which is never withheld from law-makers whose course is shaped solely by the conceptions He gives them of the right and duty, I conclude with a sentiment which trust may inspire all our actions—the union of the Republican party for the sake of the Union.

Pennsylvania Elections.
The Harrisburg Telegraph says that the next Pennsylvania legislature will consist of twenty Republicans and thirteen Democrats in the Senate, and fifty-four Republicans and forty-six Democrats in the House; a Republican majority of fifteen on joint ballot.

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania will now stand Read, Agnew, and Strong, who have voted with the Republicans, and Thompson and Sharswood, Democrats.

WILKESBARRE, October 12.—Numerous reports of gross Democratic frauds in various parts of this county are being received.

In the Sixth Ward of Scranton, owing to a riot, the polls were not opened until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and then Republicans were not allowed to vote.

In the North District of Wilkesbarre township no Republican was allowed to vote, while Democrats are known to have voted over and over again. The same thing was done in other parts of Luzerne county.

Woodward's official majority in Luzerne is 1,881, and Ketcham's majority in Susquehanna is 1,270. Woodward's majority in the district, 611.

OHIO.
CINCINNATI, October 14.—There is no longer any doubt of the result in Ohio for Governor. The Gazette and Commercial (Republican) this morning, agree that General Hayes is certainly elected by nearly three thousand, and the Enquirer (Democratic) concedes it by a lesser majority. The Legislature is Democratic. The party here are already counting on Hon. George H. Pendleton's election to the United States Senate. The Gazette's tables to-day show that the contest was very close in many counties. In Knox county the Republicans had a majority of two, and in one county there was a tie.

It is said that C. L. Vallandigham is to be the Democratic United States Senator from Ohio, in place of Hon. Benj. F. Wade.

INDIANA.
INDIANAPOLIS, October 14.—The returns from the county elections in this State show large Republican gains in the lower tier of counties, and considerable Democratic gains in northern counties, especially in the Fort Wayne district. Official returns from the ten counties on the Ohio river show a gain of 1,500 for the Republicans. The Journal claims that the result in the State will show decided Republican gains.

The Democracy have issued their call for a delegate State convention, to meet here on the 8th of January. The Cincinnati Commercial of Saturday has the following dispatch from Indianapolis:
The returns from Southern Indiana show large Republican gains. Crawford county gives 180 Republican majority, a Republican gain of 150; Harrison county gives a Republican majority of 157, a Republican gain of 350; Washington county gives a Democratic majority of 200, a Republican gain of 200; Clarke county gives 300 Democratic majority, a Republican gain of 400; Orange county gives three Democratic majority, a small loss. The Republicans will contest the election in consequence of illegal votes. The Republican gain in Kosciusko county is 50, and in Whitley 100.

IOWA.
CINCINNATI, October 14.—The Times (Democratic) claims that the Democrats have gained 10,000 in Iowa, but concedes that Morrill (Republican) is elected Governor by over 20,000, and that the legislature is Republican by a decided majority, but the Democrats claim a gain of three State senators.

DES MOINES, October 11.—Returns from forty counties and parts of counties have been received here. In those counties the Republican State ticket has a majority of 27,503. All the heaviest counties in the State have been heard from. Those yet to come in are in the agricultural districts, and nearly all strongly Republican. The forty counties heard from give half the vote of the State.

We have every thing to back us in saying that our State majority will not be less than 27,000. Both branches of the Legislature are four fifths Republican.

TENNESSEE LEGISLATURE.
Senate.
MONDAY, Oct. 14.
The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

Mr. Rogers offered a resolution commending Gen. Grant to the National Republican Convention for nomination for the Presidency. Lies over.
Mr. Elliott offered a joint resolution instructing our Senators and requesting our Representatives in Congress to use their best endeavors to abolish or so modify the present tax on cotton as to place it upon an equitable basis with other products. A joint resolution was adopted directing the Comptroller to issue to the Doorkeepers of each House a warrant to the amount of $10 for each officer and member, for the purchase of postage stamps.
A joint resolution appointing a Committee on Immigration, was adopted, and Messrs. Carey and Echel were appointed on the part of the Senate.
Mr. Elliott offered a bill to regulate the rate of interest. The bill fixes seven percent, as the legal rate, but provides for as much as twelve percent, when the parties contract in writing for that amount. All higher rates, whether direct or implied, are denounced as unlawful. Referred to the Committee on Judiciary.
Mr. Aldridge introduced a bill, which passed first reading and was referred to the Judiciary Committee, entitled "An act to indemnify loyal citizens for losses sustained in putting down the rebellion."
Gen. Thomas, Private Secretary to the Governor, delivered to the Senate the following message:
STATE OF TENNESSEE,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
NASHVILLE, Oct. 14, 1867.
Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:
I transmit herewith for your information, the report of Thomas B. McElwee, Esq., agent to settle the claim of the State against the Tennessee National Bank of Memphis.
W. G. BROWNLOW.
The message was received and read, and on motion of Mr. Elliott, referred to a joint special committee of three on the part of the Senate, and such number as the House may appoint. The Speaker appointed Messrs. Cate, Fuson and McCall.
The bill to secure to labor its just reward, repealing the exemption and stay laws as against hired laborers for sums less than $100, was considered and passed—ayes 16, noes 8. There appearing nothing further on the calendar, the Senate adjourned till 10 a. m., to-morrow.

House of Representatives.
Mr. Martin—Presented a report from the committee on elections, on the case of J. W. M. Grayson, contesting the seat of H. P. Murphy, member from Johnson county, reporting in favor of the contestant.

By Mr. Ryder.—A bill to protect mechanics, giving mechanics a lien upon the product of their labor until payment of wages. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

By Mr. Jordan.—A resolution providing that the House Committee on immigration be changed into a joint committee. Laid over.

By Mr. Blackman.—A bill reorganizing the Board of Trustees of Union Academy, at Clinton, Tennessee. Referred to the Committee on Incorporations.

By Mr. McKimley.—A bill prohibiting non-voters from appearing at the polls for the purpose of issuing tickets or influencing voters. Referred Judiciary Committee.

By Mr. Reeves.—A bill changing the time of holding the Circuit Court of Fayette and Shelby counties. Referred to Committee on Judiciary.

By Mr. Mynatt.—A resolution providing for the appointment of a page for duty on the floor of the House. Laid over.

By Mr. Hamner.—A bill incorporating Middle Creek Cemetery, Sevier county. Passed first reading.

By Mr. Singletary.—A bill to amend the charter of the East Tennessee and West N. C. R. R. Co. Referred to Committee on Internal Improvements.

By Mr. Cagle.—A bill fixing the compensation of witnesses in Courts of record, and before Justices of the Peace. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

By Mr. Turner.—A bill changing the county line between Lawrence and Wayne. Referred to the Committee on New Counties and County Lines.

By Mr. Jordan.—A bill to amend the election laws of the State conferring upon the Commissioners of Registration the power to appoint Judges and Clerks of election. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

By Mr. Hamilton.—A bill to amend the charter of the Carolina Insurance Company of Memphis. Passed first reading.

By Mr. Prosser.—A bill repealing the tax on merchandise. Referred to the Committee on Finance and Ways and Means.

By Mr. Ryder.—A bill incorporating the Ephraim Lodge of the Independent Order of Sons of Covenant, of Memphis. Referred to Committee on Incorporations.

Adjourned until 9 a. m., Tuesday.

To the Public.
Some weeks ago a report was put into circulation, that I had been elected to the office of Sheriff, to be held in August 1867. I reported Col. D. M. Nelson, Lieut. A. Kelly, Capt. George McPherson and others for the office, and the report was refuted. I have now received a letter from J. E. McClure, the following reply, which I will take pleasure in showing to any one asking. The reply speaks for itself and explains me of the charge in full.

LETTER FROM J. E. MCCLURE, KY., Oct. 14, 1867.
Your favor of September 26th inst. is at hand. In reply to the inquiry as to whether you were the person who reported Nelson, Kelly, McPherson and others to be elected Sheriff, I beg to say that I have never said or written a word to that effect. I have only said in justice to myself that you are not, and in justice to myself that I have never said any such or worse words.

Very Respectfully,
J. E. MCCLURE.
Hoping that this letter will sustain your opinion in the matter, if it becomes necessary for me to make an official statement, if this does not entirely convince you of the falsity of the charge.

I AM, YOURS, &c.,
J. E. MCCLURE.

Thos. Barbridge, brother of Gen. Stephen Barbridge, was killed at Russellville, Ky., the other day, by a man by the name of Mitchell.
